

WHAT'S NEXT? RESOURCES FOR ACTION

www.peacefultomorrows.org

Thank you for joining the September 11th Families for Peaceful Tomorrows in events commemorating the 5th anniversary of 9/11. We hope you will join us in our new network of individuals and organizations from across the world committed to working towards breaking the cycles of violence by promoting justice, reconciliation, and genuine peace. Here are some steps you can take:

As Individuals

Join Peaceful Tomorrows as a supporter, participate in our actions, and receive e-mail alerts. Organize a speaking event in your area. Contact: 212-598-0970 http://www.peacefultomorrows.org/

Peaceful Tomorrows is a member of the Nonviolent Peaceforce. Join and pledge to break the cycle of violence, work a day for peace, and/or organize a peace event for your community: <http://nvpf.org>, click on "Work a Day for Peace" icon.

Attend a peace and human rights meeting in your community. Action Without Borders includes a searchable listing of 14,000 organizations devoted to world peace. <http://www.idealists.org/>. Start or strengthen your own group. Amnesty International has an "activist toolkit" to help new groups get started, useful tips on running an existing group, and ideas for planning events and activities. Contact: 1-866-A-REGION, <http://www.amnestyusa.org/activism/>

As Organizations

Organize an event and invite speakers from Peaceful Tomorrows and/or our international partners. Join us in our many initiatives to break the cycle of violence. Contact: 212-598-0970 <http://www.peacefultomorrows.org/>

Teach peace education and support youth leadership, Peaceful Tomorrows offers models of youth exchanges between countries in conflict. The American Friends Service Committee has additional models & materials: <http://www.afsc.org>

Keep informed of events in your area or across the nation through Peaceful Tomorrows e-mail alerts and through United for Peace & Justice. UFPJ is one of the largest networks of grassroots anti-war and social change activists: <http://www.unitedforpeace.org>

Become a member organization of Nonviolent Peaceforce and help where possible to recruit and train people in your community. Join the Peace Force in your country and channel fund-raising and political support from your government for peace. Contact: Strategic Liaison Director David Grant: dgrant@nonviolentpeaceforce.org website: <http://nvpf.org>

As Communities

Hold a film screening at a Community Center that will promote discussion. Encounter Point is an important film featuring members of our international network from Israel and Palestine <http://www.encounterpoint.com/>. See Amnesty International's guidelines for film screenings: <http://www.amnestyusa.org/lordofwar/viewingparty.html>.

Draft and disseminate a declaration of non-violence for your community. Contact: The Institute for Peace and Justice <http://www.ipj-ppi.org/pledge.html>

As Governments

Support a U.S. Department of Peace <http://www.thepeacealliance.org/>. Learn about efforts to promote important government initiatives towards peace with Peaceful Action the nation's largest grassroots peace group at www.peace-action.org. Find the record of your Congressional representatives through the nonpartisan Peace Majority <http://www.peacemajority.org/actions.htm>

Write to or call local and state governments to show support or concern for policies. Links to State and Local Officials: <http://www.statelocalgov.net/> The White House: (202) 456 1414.
